At last, the Arab American Association of Engineers and Architects (AAAEA) is making its big move to the West Coast!!!

The National Outreach Committee of the AAEA is delegating Mr. Bilal Almasri (The founding president) to help us establish the first west coast chapter in Los Angeles.

You are cordially invited to take part of this big event and join forces to lay the foundation for this great organization in Los Angeles and neighboring cities. Please join us for a meeting-luncheon on:

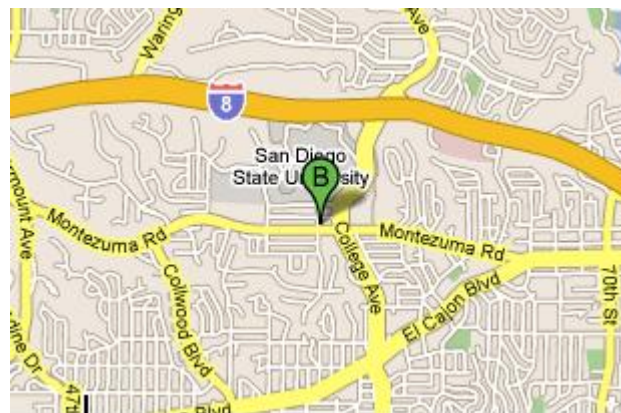

Saturday, August 23, 2008

5:30 PM

@

San Diego State University

Engineering Building
5500 Campanile Drive
San Diego, CA 92182

The meeting will start at 5:00 pm.

Parking Information: Parking structure (6) right off the exit to College avenue South from the 8 EAST freeway will be available and meters will be located on the 1st and 2nd floors. It will most likely be empty at the time of the event..

Guys, it is high time to come out of the shadow and get organized on a professional level within our community and display the great contributions of Arab Americans to our society at large as Engineers, Architects, and Information Technology Professionals. Do not miss out on this historical event.
