AAAEA DINNER SEMINAR

INTRODUCTION TO THE LEED ACCREDITATION PROGRAM

By

Gail Borthwick, AIA, LEED AP

U.S. Green Building Council - Chicago Chapter

“With the new version of LEED recently released many people are wondering what are the changes and what to study for the new exams. This presentation will give an overview of the rating system, the exams and the LEED process in general. The presentation will also discuss the role of sustainability in architecture in general.”

Bio: Senior Architect Gail Borthwick has extensive experience in green and high-performance design, participating in several national organizations devoted to sustainability.

Since joining AS+GG in 2007, she has contributed to the design of several major projects in Chicago, Vancouver, Dubai and Abu Dhabi, and currently leads the Central Area De-Carbonization Plan for the City of Chicago.

Gail's previous position was at Perkins + Will in Chicago, where she served as a sustainable design consultant on various large commercial projects. Gail's work experience also includes stays at Farr Associates and Frye Gillan Molinaro, both in Chicago, as well as in Toronto and London.
